FEDERATION OFFICIALS IN CONTEMPT OF COURT.

Judgments Against Gompers, Morrison and Mitchell Sustained.

Sentences Reduced, Two Last Named Escaping Imprisonment.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The contempt of court judgments upon Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and John Mitchell, officials of the American Federation of Labor, were sustained today by the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. It, however, revised the sentences to give Gompers 30 days imprisonment and fine and Mitchell and Morrison $500 each, with no jail term. The chief justice of the court, dissenting, held that the entire judgment should be reversed.

The lower court gave Gompers one year, Mitchell nine months and Morrison six months, without option of fine. All were convicted of violation of a court injunction in the noted Bucks Stove & Range case.

An appeal from the decision today will be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States, if attorneys for the labor leaders can find ground on which to ask the higher court to review the judgment. On a previous appeal to the Supreme Court the judgment was effectually dismissed and the contempt proceedings were brought again. In the previous action the decision of the court below holding the men in contempt was unanimous. The dissenting opinion of the chief justice today probably will present one avenue of further appeal.

The contempt was alleged to have been the publication of the name of the Buck Stove & Range Company in a so-called "boycott list" in the American Federation of Labor official magazine, after it had been forbidden by the court.

REMANDED UNTIL THURSDAY.

Three Suffragette Leaders Admitted to Bail in $5,000 Each.

LONDON, May 5.—The police court proceedings against the suffragette leaders, held on charges of conspiracy under the malicious damage to property act, were resumed at Bow Street today. Seven of the prisoners—"Generals" Mrs. Flora Drummond, Miss Harriet Rebecca Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney and the chemist, Clayton—had been held in custody since their last appearance and they were joined in prisoners' enclosure today by Miss Laura Lennox and Sydney Drew, the printer, who had been released on bail.

After some police evidence had been given, the magistrate remanded the accused against until Thursday. Miss Laura Lennox, Miss Rachel Barrett and Miss Agnes Lake were admitted to bail in $5,000 each.

Mrs. Drummond and Miss Kenney, who wer among those held without bail, created a scene in the prisoners' encloruse. They shouted: "We shall start a hunger strike" and "you may not see us here on the next occasion unless we are carried."

Sydney Drew, the printer, apologized for printing a single issue of The Suffragette and gave sureties in $5,000 not to repeat the offense. He was then released.

KING WISHES THEM LUCK.

British Polo Team to Compete for International Cup in June.

LONDON May 5.—There has been some uncertainty as to the composition of the British polo team which is to attempt to win the International polo cup from the American team at Meadowbrook, Long Island, in June, but this was removed today when King George bade farewell to the challengers at Buckingham Palace. The chosen quartet to represent the British players were Captain R. C. Ritson, Captain Leslie St. C. Cheape, Captain Vivien Lockett and Captain Noel Edwards. The king, when he shook hands with them, wished them luck in their efforts to bring the cup back to England.

POPE GIVES AN AUDIENCE.

Success of Eucharistic Congress Gives Him Great Consolation.

ROME, May 5.—Pope Pius, for the first time since his illness, this morning gave an audience. The honor fell to Cardinal Dominic Ferrarata, who recently returned from presiding over the Eucharistic congress at Malta. The Pope expressed the deepest interest in all the details of the congress, inquiring minutely about those who had participated and saying the success of this great religious gathering had given him great consolation.

REASON FOR ACTION UNKNOWN.

Fall River Iron Works Company's Mills in Fall River to Close.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 5.—Notices were posted today in the seven big mills of the Fall River Iron Works Company that they would shut down indefinitely next Saturday. No reason for the action is given in the notices. The corporation, which is owned by the American Printing Company, operates 500,000 spindles in the manufacture of cotton cloth to supply the print works. It employs 5,000 hands, with a weekly payroll of about $35,000.

NEW ENGLAND COMPANY FAVOR

New Haven System Charged With Unlawful Discrimination.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The New Haven system was charged with unlawful discrimination in favor of the New England Steamship Company, to the disadvantage of a competitor, the Colonial Navigation Company of New York, in a petition filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Colonial. The latter company alleged that the New Haven has extended to its competitor privileges withheld from it.

GOVERNOR VETOES THE ANTI-DUMPING BILL.

Says Measure Restricts Authority of Harbor Commission.

Also Disapproves Southern Railway Lease and Two Other Laws.

[Special despatch to The News.]

PROVIDENCE, May 5.—Governor Pothier today vetoed the act, presented by Representative Fletcher W. Lawton of Newport and passed by the legislature in the last days of its recent session, preventing the dumping of dredged material in the main channel between Rose Island and Point Judith. The message vetoing the bill is addressed to the secretary of state and is as follows:

"I herewith transmit without my approval, house act No. 63, entitled, "An act in amendment of section 17 of chapter 144 of the General Laws, entitled 'Of Protection of Navigation.' My reason for disapproving this act is that it restricts the scope and authority of the board of harbor commissioners over the tide waters of the state to an unwarrantable extent, in an attempt to regulate a temporary condition.

"For several years I have advocated, in messages to the General Assembly, the extension of the jurisdiction of the board of harbor commissioners to the harbors and waters bordering on the towns of Newport county, which waters are now excluded from such jurisdiction by a provision of the General Laws, and have set forth in detail my reasons therefor. The act in question seeks to exclude additional waters from the jurisdiction of the board of harbor commissioners; namely, the ship channel in that locality.

"The reason for its presentation seems to have been the action of the board of harbor commissioners in prescribing a portion of the main channel below Rose Island, where the depth is approximately 120 feet at low water, as a deposit for clean material dredged from the harbor, and under certain restrictions, as the place of deposit of other dredged material. The presumption is that, if the authority of the board of harbor commissioners over the main channel at the point is removed, the United States government may cease depositing dredged material at that point, to which the residents of Newport object, and resume depositing with material at the Dyer Island dumping ground, the one prescribed by the Secretary of War in 1910.

"Under the jurisdiction it enjoys at the present time, the board of harbor commissioners has the power to forbid the deposit of dredged material below Rose Island immediately at any time for cause; but if this act becomes a law and the main channel is withdrawn from the jurisdiction of the board of harbor commissioners the state would have no authority, which would be recognized by the United States, to prevent he deposit at this point by government contractors as long as the government should see fit to permit it.

"Furthermore, there is a pronounced objection to a return to the Dyer Island dumping ground as a place of deposit, owing to the injuries to the oyster grounds from such deposits and a threatened curtailment of the state's revenue from these grounds on this account.

"It would seem that the interests of the state and of those who claim to be adversely affected by the depositing of dredged material below Rose Island would be more thoroughly conserved if the power to stop such deposit for cause were to remain with the board of harbor commissioners. For this reason, and on the general principle that the jurisdiction of the board of harbor commissioners should extend to all tide waters of the state, I am compelled to record my disapproval of the measure.

"Very Respectfully
"Aram J. Pothier."

Governor Pothier also vetoed the bill allowing the lease of the Southern New England railway to the Central Vermont for a term of 99 years. He declared in his veto that the terms of the lease were not given and that he had been advised that the lease would take the property of the Grand Trunk's proposed line out of the control of the state.

Four bills in all were vetoed, out of the 148 which came to the governor from the closing session of the legislature. The others were measures allowing the sale of certain articles of food on Sunday, and prohibiting the sale of misbranded and adulterated drugs and foods. Regarding the latter, the governor said there was no penalty provided for the punishment of violations of this act and the General Assembly could, before the time at which this act was to have become effective, pass another act which would remedy its faults.

The Newport members of the legislature admit that Governor Pothier has sized up correctly the dumping act, when he says that the bill seems intended to restrict the powers of the state harbor commission. The delegation has been a unit in opposition to this commission, regardless of its division on other matters. It has been contended that that body, which has such a strong pull up the river, is inefficient in performing the duties with which it is empowered, and there is now in the finance committee of the house a bill introduced to kill the commission. The arbitrary way in which the board arranged to protect the interests of the oyster trust and deposit the Providence mud at Newport's front door, the Newport legislators say, was enough to start them to do something. It is declared by some of them that Governor Pothier's contention that it is proper to have the material from Providence river dumped off Newport will be a subject on which Newport will wage a hot fight against the machine next winter.

KING OF MONTENEGRO TO EVACUATE SCUTARI.

CETTINJE, Montenegro, May 5.—King Nicholas of Montenegro today decided to evacuate the fortress of Scutari in response to the demand of the European powers.

The king of Montenegro when he took possession of Scutari April 23, after a six months' siege which cost the lives of thousands of Montenegrins and Turks, declared that he would hold the city until the last drop of Montenegrin blood had been spilt. As the European powers had decided previously that Scutari was to form part of the future autonomous state of Albania, a crisis was brought about and the powers immediately brought strong pressure to bear to force him and his troops to evacuate the place. In the meanwhile Austria took energetic steps to enforce the powers' decision and concentrated large bodies of troops in Bosnia, Herzegovina and Dalmatia. The powers in the interim instituted a blockade of the Montenegrin coast. All these demonstrations, however, seemed not to affect the determination of the king.

Some of the Montenegrin troops were withdrawn from Scutari in order, it was said, to resist a possible Austrian advance. Then word came that Austria and Italy had entered into an agreement to solve the Albanian problem by a military expedition and it was known that the Austrian army was preparing to march forward.

The attitude of Russia under these circumstances was a matter of great concern to Europe and when she joined in the pressure being exercised on Montenegro a sigh of relief went up, as it had been thought she would resist any attempt by Austria to march her army southward.

It was suggested during the negotiations that the king of Montenegro was to receive territorial compensation in some other direction if he would give up Scutari and that His Majesty was preparing to accept this offer.

PLACED UNCONDITIONALLY.

Montenegro Leaves Future of Scutari in Hands of the Powers.

LONDON, May 5.—Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister, announced at today's meeting of the ambassadors that Montenegro had unconditionally placed the question of the future of Scutari in the hands of the powers.

The decision reached by King Nicholas at the very last moment had the effect of immediately relieving the great tension on European politics and caused unbounded satisfaction to diplomats and the general public. The Stock Exchange at once responded to this feeling and it was generally hoped that this action of Montenegro would do away with all necessity for military incursions into Albania, such as Austria and Italy were contemplating against Essaad Pasha, the former Turkish commander of Scutari, Djavid Pasha, with his refugee Turkish troops, and other independent leaders on the plea of restoring order.

The example of Montenegro will, it is expected, have a salutory effect in causing other disturbing elements in the Balkan peninsula to bow to the will of Europe.

No date for the evacuation of Scutari by the Montenegrin troops was given in the communication received from Cettinje, but there is reason to believe that the German minister in the Montenegrin capital received assurances from King Nicholas that the first steps would be taken within 24 hours. Further details of the intentions of Montenegro may, it is thought here, be forthcoming during the conference of ambassadors in London today.

The news received from the German minister at Cettinje and the strength of the Vienna market confirmed the belief of Berlin's financial circles that a peaceful settlement was in sight, but the Bourse, although firm and somewhat higher, opened with great reserve, the speculative interests being slow to revive their optimism.

WILL RULE WITH STRONG HAND.

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, May 5.—Michael Oreste, the new president of the republic of Hayti, elected yesterday, immediately displayed great energy in the suppression of disorder in the city and declared that he will maintain peace with a strong hand. General Defly, governor of the city, who attacked the parliamentary building during the voting for the presidency yesterday, was repulsed, together with his followers, by the regular troops commanded by General Poltovien. General Defly fled and took refuge in the Cuban legation.

Congress, which failed to hold a session Saturday on account of lack of a quorum, re-assembled Sunday and elected Oreste president by 75 votes. During the session firing in the streets was resumed and continued at intervals through the day.

bases—Trojans 4; Trisomes 4. Time—1:30. Umpire—McManus.

With the score tied, 4 to 4, and two out at the end of the ninth inning, in the Rogers-Durfee game Saturday afternoon, Faculty Manager Morrison of the Durfee team, objecting to a decision of Umpire Carr, withdrew his men from the field and thereby forfeited the game to Rogers, 9 to 0. The decision had been made during a whirlwind rally by the Rogers batters, in which four runs had crossed the plate, and things looked fair for a victory. Cremin, on Arnold's hit, had rounded third and reached home. Morrison, with an idea that Cremin had not touched third, had his players field the ball to the base, and demanded that Cremin be called out. Carr made the decision that he was safe, and then followed the argument, which ended in Umpire Oxx giving Durfee two minutes to take positions, after which he awarded the game to Rogers.

The game, from the beginning, had been dull and uninteresting, and there were few fast or brilliant plays. In almost every inning Rogers had men on base, but through poor work at the bat and good work by the Durfee fielders no score had been made. In only two innings had Durfee scored, one run in the third and three in the fourth. Sabens, in the box for Durfee, while not showing good control at first, tightened up in the pinches and kept Rogers from scoring. Sayer, the Rogers veteran pitcher, was obliged to quit in the fourth, and Cremin effectively held Durfee for the rest of the game.

The game dragged on through eight innings and a half, with the Rogers chances growing smaller and smaller and Durfee's brighter and brighter, with a four-run lead. The ninth, however, was the spectacular part of the game. Martland started the batting against Sabens, who had held Rogers to one lone hit in the eight other times at bat. Martland, however, put a hard line to second base, which was well fielded. Wilks came up, and the crowd roared when he made a clean hit and was safe at second. Denniston went in for Tubley, but was rewarded with a strike-out.

With two out the chances seemed slim for Rogers, but Pinto took his time and, waiting for what he wanted, at last landed on a pretty single, scoring Wilks. Sabens was beginning to weaken, and Geraghty, batting for Cottrell, was given four balls. Cremin came up and waited, and received the same as Geraghty. Then, with three on bases, Arnold came to bat. He arched a long, high hit between the left and centre fielders. Pinto crossed the plate, Geraghty followed, Cremin rounded third and reached home a fraction before the ball. Arnold nested safely on third, and then came the objection from Manager Morrison and the forfeit of the game.

The only hit up to the eighth was made by Diggles in the first, and he was left on third. Sabens struck out 11 and fooled them on practically all straight balls. He lost his control at times and passed four men, but two were in the last inning, when the three hits were made. In the early innings Sabens was annoyed by the inability of his catcher, who dropped one out of every three pitched balls, but this wore off as the game proceeded. Sayer, after being found for seven hits in four innings, was replaced by Cremin, who allowed Durfee only two hits.

Sabens worked out of several holes, and one especially was noticeable. In the fourth it seemed like a sure score for Rogers, with Martland on third and Wilks on second and none out. Tubley struck out Pinto followed suit, and then Cottrell bit at Sabens's hit-proof shoots and went out also by the same method.

The termination of the game was very unpleasant for Rogers, both team and supporters. Coach Robinson, of Durfee team, after the game said he was sorry that the team had left the field, as he thought it should have been finished out. The line-up and summary:

St. George's School won another victory Saturday afternoon on its own grounds, defeating the Noble and Greenough School of Boston, 7 to 1. St. George's made all its runs in the first inning, batting Pratt for eight hits and scoring seven times. After that Pratt settled down and allowed but two additional hits. A. Lewis pitched a fine game throughout, allowing only two hits and striking out five. Both teams played well in the field, each making four errors. Abbott at second base for Noble and Greenough put up a fine game, accepting eight chances without an error, and for St. George's McIlvaine handled five flies in left field. The score follows:

Saturday on the Basin lot—which really should be called the Rocky Mountain Cold Grounds, for reasons evident to all players—the Daily News base ball team of 1913 opened its season. The "victim" selected for the opening slaughter was the St. Joseph's Holy Name team. Spectators say it was a close and rather interesting game, but any one who looks at the final score can readily see that from a Daily News point of view it was not the real goods—11 to 9 in seven innings is the way those heartless Holy Name boys put it over the Daily News aggregation. Darkness put an end to the contest, but at the time the game stopped the Daily News pitcher was a southpaw who was just turning those Holy Name batters into putty and it looked pretty good for a win, if only the sun had lasted longer.

Carr and Moriarty did the battery work for the winners and Fairbrother, Beattie and Prusso had the most of it for the losers. The voice of the umpire was the best thing in the game. His work was not excelled by any of the performers in the late world's series and no one was left in doubt about what the decisions were. His name should also appear—Hayward.

The team—that is, the Daily News team—has been practicing noons and evenings, and when the evenings are longer it will have more time for practice; also, so will the other teams. Just because it lost once, and the opener, does not count. They had as much fun as if they had won.

The Training Station won a decisive victory over the team from battleship Rhode Island, the score being 16 to 5. The Station outplayed the battleship men at all points. Diehl and Guinee showing a fine game. The summary is as follows:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Training Station	5	0	1	3	0	4	2	1	x—16
Rhode Island	3	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	1— 5

Batteries—Guinee and Jones for the Training Station; Gross, Halftown and Gamberger for the Rhode Island. Hits—Training Station, 11; Rhode Island 7. Errors—Training Station, 4; Rhode Island, 7.

At Fort Adams Saturday the fort again defeated the New Jersey team, the score being 21 to 2. Sunday Fort Adams beat the Rhode Island team, 22 to 11, in a heavy hitting game, in which Jones of the Fort nine made a home run, a three-base hit and a single. Fort Adams has won five victories without defeat this season.

"THE HARBOR MASTER."

Stirring Tale of Wreckers Off the Island of Newfoundland, by Roberts.

"The Harbor Master," by Theodore Goodridge Roberts, is a romance of Newfoundland. It is a stirring tale, with plenty of adventure and danger. Chance Along, the picturesque and appropriate name for a little hamlet hidden from the world by cliffs and a rock-bound coast, has only a handful of inhabitants, who are rough, uncouth men, ignorant and superstitious. Mr. Roberts has given a graphic picture of the life of such a community, the almost barren condition of the land, the poverty-stricken state of the people and the primitive ideas which prevail. The atmosphere of the outer world pervades the story.

Black Dennis Nolan is the skipper or "boss" of the village. He is ambitious to become prosperous and that his neighbors also shall become so. He therefore sets out with determination and foresight to bring about his desire, and organizes a company of wreckers. Up to this time the people of Chance Along looked upon food and clothing washed ashore from a wreck as their rightful belongings, but Black Dennis is not satisfied with such meagre supplies. He makes preparations to salvage the cargoes of wrecked vessels on a large scale. He is something of a tyrant, domineering and boastful, and quells all opposition by means of his big fist. No one dares differ from him, after encountering his discipline. Black Dennis, however, finds it not all plain sailing, especially when his heart begins to interfere with his head.

Others who help make the story are Mother Nolan, a sharp-tongued, quick-witted, sensible woman, who dares defy her son; Mary Kavanagh, a pretty gray-eyed girl, who shows that she has pluck as well as beauty; Flora Lockhart, a lovely young singer, who is shipwrecked and saved by Black Dennis; John Darling, mate of one of the shipwrecked vessels and deceived by the wreckers, but who has his revenge later; Father McQueen, the only person of whom Nolan is afraid; Foxey Jack Quinn, who defies the skipper to his cost, and Chance Along men, whose ignorance and superstition almost cause the loss of Nolan's leadership.

ASTOR HOUSE DOOMED.

Famous Hotel in New York, Erected in 1834, to be Destroyed.

The old Astor House in New York, within the grim, weather-stained walls of which probably more of the country's famous men have found rest and refreshment during the last three quarters of a century than in any other hostlery in the United States, is doomed to destruction. Erected in 1834 by John Jacob Astor, founder of the Astor fortune, the hotel has come to be one of the landmarks of the city. Its fame in this country is hardly greater than its reputation abroad.

With the possible exceptions of Independence Hall in Philadelphia and Faneuil Hall in Boston, there is no other structure in the country in which more history has been made or from which more romance and tradition has emanated than the Astor House. Its corridors have echoed with the footsteps of the country's greatest statesmen, authors, bankers and soldiers. Beneath its roof have slept princes and dignitaries of many countries. At its famous lunch counters, it is said, every President of the United States from Andrew Jackson to Theodore Roosevelt has eaten.

The site on which the Astor House stands abounds in historical interest. As early as 1742 part of the property was inclosed within fences surrounding a race track. The Bull's Head Tavern, one of the best known of Manhattan's congregating places for those with sporting inclinations, occupied the site of the present structure just before the Revolution. In its long room the old burghers gathered on winter nights to puff their long clammed pipes. In the summer they repaired to the spacious gardens at the rear and had their schnapps served beneath the trees. It was the original clubhouse of the city.

When the first Astor had accumulated a fortune he became obsessed with a desire to build himself a house more grand and more spacious than any on the island. He bought the entire frontage on Broadway in the block between Vesey and Barclay streets for a total of $150,000. It is now estimated to be worth $2,500,000.

When it became known that a mammoth hotel was to be constructed on the property old Manhattanites blinked in astonishment. New York's northerly limit was hardly above Church street in those days, and a hotel of such proportions so far uptown, it was predicted, would be a monument to failure.

Soon after its completion Astor and his son, William Backhouse Astor, stood on Broadway looking with admiration at the hotel. The elder Astor turned to his son and asked him if he would care to own it. Replying in the affirmative, the son was astonished when his father asked him for a dollar. He placed a piece of silver in his father's hand. "It is yours, my son," Astor said, pointing to the magnificent hotel and completing a sale of New York property rivaled only by that made by our worthy Dutch ancestors when they bought the Island of Manhattan for $24.

THE NEWPORT'S CRUISE.

Schoolship Starts on Trip With Boys Seeking Mates' Certificates.

With 160 youthful aspirants for a first mate's certificate on board, gunboat Newport, the schoolship maintained by the New York city board of education, left Saturday afternoon for a five months' cruise through Long Island sound and along the coast of Maine. Captain E. H. Tillman, special superintendent in charge of the vessel, found it hard to keep his young charges remembering that they were embarking on a nautical career and not boys off for a summer outing such as their companions ashore might well have envied. A large number had come to see the Newport leave the recreation pier. In response to the waving of handkerchiefs naval discipline relaxed sufficiently to allow the boys to give their college yell in a last farewell.

The Newport is to put in at Glen Cove, Long Island, for about two weeks, and then resume her cruise. After the boys have gained their sea legs. She is expected to return October 1, soon after which her control by the board of education will cease, and the schoolship will be taken over by the state department of education.

TRACK MEET AT THE FORT.

Soldiers Win, Although Rogers Boys Do Well Against Older Opponents.

In a track meet at Fort Adams Saturday afternoon the soldier team won from the Rogers High School, 46 to 27. It was the first meet for Rogers, and, against grown and more experienced men, they did very well, especially in the running events. Rogers took all three places in the mile run and one or two in the other three. The Fort Adams champion shot-putting team, which has been one, two, three, in all the Young Men's Christian Association meets the past winter, again won and first places in the jumps also went to the soldiers.

Mason, of the losers, scored 10 of the Rogers points, and the other schoolboys also did well against their older opponents. It was the relay race which counted most, and the score would not have shown such a difference if Rogers had won it, the Newport boys losing by 1-5 second. The line up and summary:

100-yard dash—First, Jones, Fort Adams; second, McKenzie, Fort Adams; third, Sullivan, Rogers. Time, 10 3-5 seconds.

440-yard run—First, Mason, Rogers; second, Townsend, Rogers; third, Jenkins, Fort Adams. Time, 59 1-5 seconds.

Half-mile run—First, LaFleur, Fort Adams; second, Reavey, Rogers; third, Blaine, Rogers. Time, two minutes, 15 seconds.

Mile run—First, Mason, Rogers; second, Maguire, Rogers; third, Edward, Rogers. Time, six minutes.

Shot put—First, Wilcie, Fort Adams; second, Connors, Fort Adams; third, Yeager, Fort Adams. Distance, 39 feet 8½ inches.

High jump—First, Nevins, Fort Adams; second, Sullivan, Rogers; third, Blaine, Rogers. Height, five feet, six inches.

Broad jump—First, Andrews, Fort Adams; second, Wingate, Fort Adams; third, Sullivan, Rogers. Distance 9 feet, 6½ inches.

FOR MEDICAL SERVICE.

Scheme For Examination of Candidates Near Homes.

Surgeon General Charles F. Stokes, chief of the bureau of medicine and surgery, has worked out a scheme for the examination of candidates for appointment in the medical service in the principal cities in the neighborhood of their homes. Upon qualification the successful candidates will be commissioned in the medical reserve corps and ordered to the naval medical school in Washington for a period of six months' instruction. Upon the completion of this course there will be a final examination, and if the medical reserve officer is found qualified he will receive a commission in the regular naval medical corps. At present there are more than 50 vacancies in the medical corps, and the Navy Department is using every effort to obtain a sufficient number of applicants to fill them.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
When she finds freedom.

Many readers will profit by the following.

Mrs. A. P. Freeborn, 160 Broadway, Newport, R. I., says: "For some time I suffered from backache and the misery was always greater when I arose in the morning. I felt tired nearly all the time and on account of lameness across my loins, I could hardly walk. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wright & Hay's Drug Store, acted like magic and brought me relief from the first. The contents of two boxes entirely disposed of my trouble. I take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

The above statement was given September 11, 1908, and on May 30, 1911 Mrs. Freeborn added: "All that I said about Doan's Kidney Pills three years ago when I publicly recommended them still holds good."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Lo, the coalescing shadows like dim, spirituous plasms

Hear by lyrical libration

For with salient expansion doth my soul in its slack mansion
Stagger till thy face appears!

POOR BUSINESS.

Practice of Sending Anything Without Permission Protested Against.

[Rochester, N. Y., Chamber of Commerce Bulletin.]

"We are, therefore, taking the liberty of sending you the enclosed tickets and trust you may see your way clear to send us your check for same." Members of the Chamber of Commerce have emphatically protested against the practice of sending tickets to them without their permission. This practice is falling off all over the country an dit has not been very prevalent in Rochester, and there seems to be no excuse for such a practice.

It is related that in a certain town in Germany the tobacconist sent a box of cigars to the local M. D. with this note: "It is true you have not ordered these cigars, but being so sure that you will enjoy them I have made so bold as to send you a box, with the bill attached." The doctor must have been part Scotch, because he wrote to the tobacconist, "The box of cigars received and enjoyed. While you have not given me an order, yet I make so bold as to send you two prescriptions which you may find useful at some time, and I am so sure that they will be efficacious that I enclose my bill, which will contra-account your cigars."

The practice of sending anything to any one with a request to stand and deliver has no authority or warrant in business and, in the enlightened city of Rochester, does not make a good impression upon people.

EXCLUSIVE ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE FOR NEWPORT.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.
The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station.

Items of local interest are solicited and will be used if their value warrants. The value is often affected if the same information has already been used in another paper. Communications of any kind must be accompanied in every case with name of sender, or they cannot be published under any circumstances, and will be received subject to editorial approval and revision.

THE DAILY MILEAGE GRAB.

Many of those who were opposed to the bill providing for daily mileage for the members of the legislature did not really appreciate what this action would mean in the matter of expense to the state and emolument to those who thus voted themselves extra pay. Now, however, its full significance is made apparent by the publication of the amount which each member received as full compensation for his services, with the combined salary and mileage.

This schedule makes some peculiar and enlightening disclosures. First of all is the fact that a large number were paid more for mileage than for salary, and in some cases considerably more than twice as much, which seems an anomaly. Then it is shown that some who live within sight of the capitol were paid a substantial sum for going to and returning from the State House.

Most conspicuous and interesting of all, however, is the fact that some members were granted large sums for mileage when as a matter of fact they did not go home regularly, if at all, during the entire session, but lived in Providence. This is true, too, of some officials who were obliged to be at the State House every day to attend to their duties aside from their membership in the legislature, thus being paid for traveling from their temporary homes to the State House when they were expected to be there any way without expenses and when they were not doing the traveling for which they were paid.

Still another disclosure is the fact that some members of the Assembly were paid, including their mileage fees, at the rate of from $10 to nearly $20 a day. The people of the state, if not the constituents of these men, could not be blamed if they should question whether their services were worth anything like that amount, especially on the days early in the session, which were not few, when the legislature was not at work more than a few moments, and the very many days when the sessions did not approach an hour in length.

The imposition which this mileage bill was upon the state and the people who pay the bills through the taxes is still more evident when it is remembered that the members voted themselves this emolument in direct opposition to an opinion rendered by the supreme court at the request of Governor Pothier, in which that body said that daily mileage was not legal. Hiding behind the statement that this declaration by the court was an opinion and not a decision, and therefore not binding, the legislators voted themselves this extra pay—for that is what it really amounted to—ignoring the evident fact that the decision of the court must have been the same as its opinion unless it was to stultify itself, and therefore with full knowledge that they were doing what they had no right to do.

In the face of this situation the acceptance of mileage which the court had declared illegal, and which in not a few cases was not earned by actual traveling, is surprising on the part of some at least of the members, but no one has given any indication of intention to decline to receive the money. It is surprising, too, that so little has been said concerning this action among the people, who must foot these bills for something for which they ought not to be obliged to pay. So little, it seems, do the people care what their representatives in the legislature do there, and so indifferent are they to a draft on the treasury of such a character as this. In view of this feeling it is not strange perhaps that the legislators should do as they did in this instance, but the incident has not been creditable to them, to the people or to the state.

FASHIONS IN A COURTROOM.

In a New York court last week a stylishly dressed woman sat with one knee over the other, which is all right now, but was regarded as unlady-like some years ago, when that word, now a shibboleth made as small at the ankles as possible without absolutely preventing locomotion, the attitude inevitably disclosed considerable hosiery, and as this was entirely up-to-date the condition of bare extremities was closely approached. The judge wounded her feeling deeply by animadverting upon her dress and attitude as disrespectful to the court. Perfectly conscious of being dressed in the height of fashion, she did not at once recognize herself as the person addressed and the judge made his references so specific as to bring the tears into her eyes.

It is a curious fact that fashion is pretty constantly trying to see of how much clothing it can divest women without moving husbands or fathers or the police—men, in any case—to interference. Sometimes it is the exposure of the neck, using the word in a broad and liberal sense; sometimes it is the ankles, using the word in the same loose and general way. Recent fashion notes announce that slit skirts with white stockings will give the impression of tights. Dress materials are not only becoming scantier, but thinner and thinner, and the latest information from headquarters is that more of the figure will be shown than even at present.

The men grow a little nervous and occasionally protest, as in this instance of the New York judge. At dinner parties and the opera one sees more of the ladies than ever before, and further revelations are more than hinted. The women, with a few exceptions, are not nearly so much disturbed as the men, some of whom are enthusiastic while more are not. In this latitude a little clothing is imperative on account of temperature, but the women are far hardier than men, and neither the weather nor other considerations will intimidate them from still further abridging their costumes if vogue shall command.

NEWS AND CRIME.

The old complaint that the publication of reports of crimes inspires more crimes has broken out in a new place, and instead of their Federation of Women's Clubs it appears in the United States Senate. Mr. Works of California has introduced a bill prohibiting the printing of reports of crime in the District of Columbia. For some years two of the three commissioners of the District were newspaper men. We believe that at present none of them are, but the commissioners, in behalf of the Washington newspapers, have filed a protest against this bill. They argue that publicity is a deterrent to crime, in support of which proposition they point out that criminals always try to avoid publicity.

It is not impossible that boys going to a Wild West show, either on the circus grounds or in a moving picture theatre, have sometimes been incited to imitate the things shown them, but it is absurd to suppose that any man reads about a murder and feels moved to go out and kill somebody or is led by a report of burglaries to seek a short and illicit route to sudden wealth. The most obnoxious crime reports are those which occur in some divorce cases or in murders growing out of similar situations. Yet, the most objectionable of all these, the Thaw trial, instead of luring girls from the country to the theatre choruses, made it difficult for some time for the managers to secure the chorus girls they needed.

One is moved by Senator Works's bill to ask whether he thinks crime a new thing. Has it come in since daily newspapers became big and enterprising and "featured" crimes on the first page? What we know of history convinces us that crime is very much older than newspapers, and countries without papers are not freer from crime than those which have a superabundance of them. In the same country the localities which have few papers are not thereby saved from crime and the periods before newspapers became common and reported crime at length were not pre-eminently periods of order and quiet living.

A report from Washington that Senator Lippitt is soon to resign is not generally believed by the Republican leaders in Rhode Island. Neither they nor any of his personal friends have heard a word from him of a desire to retire, and they point out that within the past two years the Senator has purchased and furnished a home in Washington and has also established in the upper branch of Congress a reputation as one of the greatest tariff experts in the Senate. The reasons given for Mr. Lippitt's reported intention to resign are not such as would influence a public-spirited citizen. He is enough of a politician to play square on the losing side and to await his chance for a change in the political complexion of the administration at Washington, when his experience will make him a valuable representative for the state and the country.

As was anticipated, the Democratic leaders in Congress have carried the tariff bill through the House without a single break. Saturday the wool schedule, taking off the tax on the raw material and reducing that on manufactured goods, was the object of a bitter attack by the Republicans, who offered a substitute reducing the present rates, but all to no purpose. The bill goes to the Senate practically as reported by the ways and means committee, and if it becomes a law will be known as the Underwood measure, as former tariff laws have been called by the names of the several chairmen of the committees which prepared them. It ought perhaps to be the Woodrow Wilson law, as Chairman Underwood admitted in the debate that the ways and means committee had favored a duty of 15 per cent on raw wool and had changed its mind at the suggestion of President Wilson, "for the good of the country."

There is a difference of opinion regarding the number in the woman suffrage parade in New York Saturday. The suffragists themselves claim 20,000, and others 30,000, but the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage declares that by actual count there were only 9,613 persons in the line, including children, policemen and members of the various bands, and only 9,025 actual suffrage marchers. It is unkind of the antis to attempt to discredit the large estimates of the suffragists, but women are women.

Harvard University is ever branching out. Through its Graduate School of Business Administration it is to open special courses to train young men for work as secretaries of chambers of commerce and similar organizations. The courses will give to college graduates a well-rounded training in preparation for almost any type of business activity, and to that will add special training in practical chamber of commerce operation.

Even though Secretary Bryan's mission to California has not been very successful, he is not ready to acknowledge defeat. He looks to the people of the state to express a final judgment through the referendum, before the act shall go into effect, but the people of California are apparently quite likely to vote as the legislature has done.

The California legislature having passed its anti-alien land bill, Japan at once sends a formal protest to the United States, claiming that the nation is responsible for finding a satisfactory solution of the situation, under its treaty obligations to Japan. What will the national government do now?

The fire loss in the United States and Canada in 1912 was approximately $225,000,000, or $9,000,000 less than in 1911 and $2,000,000 less than the average for the past five years. Superintendent Emmet of the New York state insurance department finds a hopeful indication in this decrease.

Governor Pothier, in his action on the bills passed by the General Assembly at its recent session, reserved his vetoes to the last. His disapproval of the Rose Island dumping bill will not please the people of Newport and Jamestown.

New York city is to have five clean-up days, from May 12 to May 16 inclusive. For a month an educational campaign has been made throughout the city and its results are expected to be exceedingly beneficial to the community.

The passing of the old Astor House from New York will leave St. Paul's Church, the city hall and Lovejoy's Hotel, now the Sun office, alone of the buildings which once stood in the then business centre of the city.

FOR ARSON AND MURDER.

English Couple, Now in This Country, Favor Means of Human Improvement.

Two mild-mannered English persons have put themselves on record as being heartily in favor of sabotage, arson and murder as means for human improvement. They are Victor Greyson and his wife, of England, now in this country.

Victor was twice expelled from Parliament for his labor agitation methods there, while his wife gave up her stage name of Ruth Norreys six months ago to adopt his. He is a radical socialist, and thinks the above mentioned methods would help things along that line. She is a militant suffragette, who believes almost any kind of violence is good for that cause.

"I am a militant In belief, though not in action yet. I have never personally killed a soul," said Mrs. Greyson. "But I endorse completely the acts of the English militants. They are justified in doing anything that gets them what they are after. Yes, this includes burning of houses and killing.

"I think it would be all right to kill Mr. Asquith, if it would help the cause. But I think it would be even better, though sadder, if Mrs. Pankhurst herself were killed. I mean, of course, by the government's treatment of her. I would feel sorry for her daughters, but it would arouse such tremendous indignation that the effect would give a great impetus to the cause."

Greyson comes to this country to study the labor wars going on here and to lecture. He has had a conference with Haywood, whom he admires and whose methods he thinks are just about the thing, and accepted his invitation to go with him to Paterson and address the silk mill strikers.

PORTSMOUTH.

Anniversary Observance by Sunday School of the Christian Church.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Rev. Albert Loucks preached at the Christian Church Sunday morning from Joshua XXIV:15. At the close of the service the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered.

The usual Sunday School lessons were omitted, it being Anniversary Sunday, and after the singing of a hymn and prayer by the superintendent, Mrs. Alonzo E. Borden, the exercises, were given into the charge of the president of the board, Mr. Alonzo E. Borden. He called for the report of the secretary, Mr. Howard A. Sherman, which included the following:

The membership of the school at present is 68, a decrease of 10 during the year. The average daily attendance was 45. Four members received the gold pin and three the second year wreath, making a total of 47 who now have the gold pins and 13 who have wreathes. The collection for the year in the primary department was $19.02, in the junior department, class 1, $5.52; class 2, $10.98; intermediate department, $9; young ladies' Bible class, $15.35; young men's Bible class, $22.11; Bible class, $33.52. The roll of honor consists of the 12 scholars (Bible class not included) having the best record of attendance for the year and is as follows: Joseph Santance, 51; Edwin Loucks, 49; Mary Paquin, 47; John Paquin, 47; Albert Purcell, 47; James Billings, 46; Helen Walker, 46; Margaret Paquin, 45; George Sweet, 43; Alice Coggeshall, 42; Lloyd Sisson, 42; Eva Walker, 42.

The report of the treasurer, Mr. A. E. Borden, follows: Balance on hand at the beginning of the year, $185.98; received from boxes, $135.63; birthday collections, $11.60; from other sources, $10.23; paid out $121.20, leaving a balance of $202.26.

The librarian, Mr. Charles Grinnell, reported the number of volumes as 667, 10 of that number being out.

The nominating committee then presented the names of the directors for the ensuing year, the same as last year with one exception, Mrs. Charles Grinnell declined to serve, Rev. Mr. Loucks being substituted. Mrs. George G. Brawley, whose ill health prevented her from serving longer, was released and the work of the home department divided and given to several.

Mr. Louis S. Sisson met with a misfortune last week. With his wife he drove to Fall River late in the afternoon to visit Mr. Moran of the Water Works. At 8 o'clock they decided to stay at night and Mrs. Sisson went out to unharness the horse, assisted by Mr. Moran. While she was slipping the bridle over the horse's head he jerked away from Mr. Moran and being unaccustomed to the lights and noises of the city became frightened and ran a long distance finally striking the front platform of a trolley car, killing himself and badly damaging the car. Mr. Sisson valued the horse at several hundred dollars besides being a pet raised by his father, William L. Sisson. Mr. Sisson, who was badly hurt by the breaking of his ankle in three places a few weeks ago, is able to be about on crutches.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hart spent Sunday in Tiverton with Mr. Hart's brother, Mr. Lester Hart.

Rev. Anson B. Howard preached at St. Paul's Church Sunday morning from Acts 1, speaking particularly on the time between the Ascension and the descent of the Holy Spirit.

Mrs. Oliver G. Hicks has gone to Hartford to spend a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. George Hollister.

Eureka Lodge, A. F. and A. M., held a well attended meeting at Eureka hall Saturday evening, conferring degrees.

Rev. John Wadsworth of the Methodist Episcopal Church preached Sunday morning from Philippians 1V:14 and in the evening from Matthew XIX:41-42.

MIDDLETOWN.

Speakers for Dedication of New Organ and Recitals at Methodist Church.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Services at the Methodist Episcopal Church were resumed Sunday afternoon in the auditorium, which had been closed during the installation of the new organ. Numerous small details remain to be done, including the electric light fittings, which will be put on this week. While Rev. H. H. Critchlow will be the special speaker at the dedication next Sunday, the pastor who preceded Rev. Mr. Wells, Rev. Clayton E. Delamater of Fall River, will assist; also, the Newport and Portsmouth clergymen from the Methodist churches. The first public recital will be given Monday evening, May 19, by Mr. Henry Stuart Hendy, who will be assisted by a male soloist. Mr. C. Lefley Grinnell, assisted by Mr. Ray Groff, will conduct the June recital. These will be followed by others by local and out-of-town talent.

The members of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church are to complete their missionary box at the May meeting. The April meeting was omitted, owing to the epidemic of measles.

Caterpillars are appearing in larger quantities than ever. The wild cherry trees are nearly covered.

Mr. Samuel Taylor, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor of Bliss road, who has been at home the past three months on account of ill health, returned to his business in New York Saturday. He is receiving clerk for the Altha Electrical Company.

Mr. Edward Corey, father of Mr. Irving A. Corey, celebrated Sunday his eighty-sixth birthday. He continues in active health and recently returned from a visit in Providence.

Rhode Island Independence day was observed today in the schools by the presentation, in the afternoon, of the state-arranged program. The usual lesons were held in the morning.

The May basket party of the Sunshine Society will be held at Holy Cross guild house.

The debate at the May meeting of Aquidneck Grange is to be conducted in a somewhat novel form, similar to the old-fashioned spelling school, with judges to decide the contested point.

There is the possibility that a Middletown woman suffrage society may be formed. A meeting is planned to be held early in June, with prominent speakers.

With the advent of May Mr. George Taylor of Bliss road assumed charge at the Berkeley Memorial Chapel as sexton, this position having been made vacant by the resignation of Mr. William V. Hart, who had served in this capacity for the past three years.

FOOD SUPPLIES STUDIED.

Boy Scouts Enjoy Making Novelties for Noonday Meal at Lawton's Valley.

About 50 of the Boy Scouts enjoyed a trip to Lawton's Valley Saturday, arriving in about an hour and a half. After a brief spring, at which the Scouts limbered themselves before work was actually begun. When the proposal to have a dip at the shore was made, the entire party practically, after cooling off went in.

Some time was spent in studying the clams, oysters and numerous periwinkles, all of which are good for food; also the razor clam, quahaug, scallop and limpet. Still another fish was found, which proved an entire surprise to every one in the party. It was a specimen from five to six inches long and an effort will be made to learn something about it. Plenty of seaweeds were encountered and studied under the direction of Scout Master Fitzpatrick, who had charge of the excursion. There were the wild strawberry, wild mustard plant, dogtooth violet, Jack in the Pulpit, white violet and skunk cabbage.

Of the animal line the Scouts found the fiddler crab, two small snakes, a few lizards, two small squirrels and a mole and saw numerous squirrels and birds.

The interesting feature of the day was making the dinner, a novelty of the noonday meal being the baked potatoes, which consist of ordinary potatoes baked in the open without the use of an oven. The dough is fastened to a brick. Another treat on the bill of fare was a fish nailed on a board and broiled.

After dinner there was a period of practical instruction and story telling, in the course of which Scout Master Fitzpatrick, after talking about the different plans for the future hikes, spoke of the fly campaign next Friday, in which the Scouts are to help.

A guy wire to a pole line has been stretched through the Liberty trees, which happened to be in the line of march. Many of the trees about town have been damaged beyond repair by the stringing of wires and the cutting of a way for stringing them. There seems to be no one who considers it his duty to look after the trees.

Messrs. Hamilton and George W. Coggeshall were here last week, looking over some unimproved real estate owned by them near the One Mile corner, which they propose to put on the market, as it is evident that that section of the city is rapidly developing. It is likely that a big tract of land will be laid out, a street opened, etc.

The Grantfields of Fall River, with the Trojans will have for their baseball opponents, are expected to put up a scrappy article of base ball. Some of their ability can be understood when it is known that they defeated the regular Fall River New England League team to a 3-2 score on Saturday previous to the league opening.

News was received here today of the death, at the Massachusetts General Hospital, of Louis Reuter, formerly well known in this city and an expert accountant. The summer temperature of Saturday did not extend into Sunday, which had an over-supply of chilly weather, with southeast wind and a feeling that it might snow at any time. There was a little rain Saturday night, with thunder and lightning attachments, followed by a short sketch of rainy weather that gave the earlier part something in the matter of heat.

The officers of steamer Plymouth this morning turned over a passenger to the police, for evading payment of fare. He had no money, he said. He offered to work his passage, but his offer was not received with enthusiasm. As he was "broke," financially, a police let him go. He was not bound for Newport any way and would have been taken to Fall River, which would have been nearer his destination.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF NEWPORT.

Judge Sweeney Gains Them in "View" in Arch avenue Injunction Case.

Decree in Downing-Tallman Suit and Large Number of Assignments for Trial.

At 11:05 this morning Judge Sweeney took his seat and opened his first session here of the superior court. There was a good attendance. The call of cases was made.

Builders & Merchants' Exchange vs. John W. Gibson et. al., a case in trespass and ejectment, was set for trial June 4.

Tribune Association vs. Christopher E. Champlin and Henry Bull, Jr., vs. same, June 5.

Thomas Bradbury vs. Robert Wolfenden was set for June 12, after it had been learned that there were two case set for the tenth and four for the eleventh.

Willis F. Palmer et. al. vs. Lester J. Palmer et. al. was set for the first Wednesday in October, by agreement.

In Union National Bank vs. Patrick H. Horgan et. al., leave to file answer May 6 was granted.

State vs. Ernest E. Stewart, State vs. William E. Koehler and State vs. Timothy L. Horgan were set for the first Wednesday in June.

Elphia E. Downing vs. Dorothea C. and Ray B. Tallman, was taken up for hearing. Mr. Levy introduced Mr. Franklin Pease of the Massachusetts bar as associated with him. He explained that plaintiff owns an undivided two-thirds of certain real estate in Portsmouth, and the respondents one third. The Savings Bank of Newport holds the mortgages. Respondents have answered.

Lorenzo D. Tallman was owner of the estate and left a will which gave his property to his children. The bill asks a sale, for partition. Respondents answer that the question of sale is before the court in another case. The bank answers that it holds the mortgages as security for a loan made to Mary E. Macomber.

Mr. Levy saw no reason why sale of the premises should not be made and the net proceeds deposited in the registry of the court.

Judge Franklin said that when the place is sold it is desired that it shall bring as high a price as possible. At present it is all tied up in litigation and cannot be sold for much until these questions are settled. It appeared that Miss Downing had bought up all claims against the estate so that there should be no need of a sale.

It was agreed that the probate appeal be withdrawn and the property be sold, subject to the rights of the Savings Bank.

Mr. MacLeod said that there are suits pending denying the validity of these mortgages. There have been many sales and the title is in a tangle which would greatly cut down the price of the property at a sale now.

Mr. Perse said the estate has been unsettled since 1904. He had no doubt of the genuineness of the notes and mortgages. Miss Downing had purchased at a foreclosure sale. Things have not been kept up by the Tallmans and she has paid taxes, and made such repairs as have been made. The buildings are going to ruin and something should be done. Nothing can be done in this case to jeopardize the bank's rights, which come up in another action already begun.

The court thought counsel might agree on a decree, by afternoon.

In John M. Morrison vs. Margaret M. Morrison, Eva C. Hare vs. James Hare divorce cases, final decrees were entered; also, in Bessie A. Thompson vs. James M. Thompson, Christina A. Gadsby vs. William Gadsby, Ernest J. Duncan vs. Lotta M. Duncan, Bessie Quarles vs. Harry Quarles, Isabel D. Flint vs. Horace W. Flint, and Elizabeth J. Stadler vs. Harry E. L. Stadler.

Arthur F. Cory vs. Maria A. Hambly, a new case, in which real estate in Tiverton was attached, was called up by Mr. Levy. There was no answer and the defendant was defaulted. Plaintiff took the stand and identified a note written by him and signed by defendant. It is dated March 3, 1911; is for $560, and interest was stated to be five per cent. Judgment was entered for $727.66, plaintiff testifying that nothing whatever had been paid.

William C. Quinn vs. Benjamin Hall came up on a motion for surety for costs, as plaintiff lives at Wareham, Mass. All parties present agreed to the granting of the motion and the date was made May 31. Then a motion to dismiss the case was argued, it being claimed that this is a "bill of review" and could not be brought without leave of court. Such leave does not appear. The court said he had granted such leave. This motion was then denied.

The decree in Downing vs. Tallman was then presented. It orders sale by public auction, and protects the bank. Several were named for appointment as commissioners; Mr. Koehne was agreed upon. Mr. Harvey having been excused, the decree was not formally entered until afternoon.

William E. Dennis et al vs. Max David, trustee, was taken up after Mr. MacLeod had said it could hardly be finished today. The bill sets forth that Dennis avenue and Arch avenue are ancient public ways, in which are sewers belonging to complainants, and that respondent threatens to obstruct these ways. Messrs. Franklin and Levy appeared for David.

Mr. MacLeod started to put in deeds and the court suggested a view. It being 12:35, court and counsel started for the view.

Percy T. Bailey vs. W. Cannon Swan, et ux. was set for trial June 13.

In Wilbor Lumber & Supply Company vs. Michael A. McCormick, leave to file additional pleas in 10 days was granted.

City of Newport vs. Newport Water Works was set for June 2, as was Armour & Co. vs. City of Newport.

In the equity case of George Howland vs. Benjamin H. Peckham, briefs are to be in by May 24. A hearing on demurrer to the bill is asked.

Judge Sweeney had a pretty poor place to gain some of his first impressions of Newport. Down "Arch avenue," and along the water front, among the inflammable dry goods debris and the manure piles, all forcibly suggesting the need of "clean-up day," and the ruins of buildings back of the old City Hall, he conscientiously scrutinized all the uninviting details pointed out by counsel. Some old residents went along and one told how he was married, and lived five years in one of the cottages, and that Mrs. Benjamin Almy, a niece of the poet Whittier, had "Whittier avenue" named in his honor.

The case proceeds this afternoon.

PLENTY TO INTEREST.

Varied Program for Saturday and Sunday at the Army and Navy.

There was plenty of interest on the hill of fare for the sailors and soldiers at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association Saturday and Sunday. As usual the piano was the centre of attraction, and it was a common sight to see a "rookie" playing and a crowd of seagoing men around, asking him to produce anything from a lively "rag" all the way to a dead march. The moving picture machine ground out five reels during the evening. Goff, first-class electrician, from the Utah, sang for the men.

Sunday at a service held on board the New Jersey Mr. Dodge of Fall River spoke, his subject being "The Breeding of Sin." Miss Margaret A. Barr and Mr. Groff sang a duet.

The Bible class at 4:30 was well attended. After a short song service Messrs. Andrews and Goff sang a duet. Mr. Ross, religious director, explained the Enlisted Men's Bible and Prayer League and a number of men signed the pledge cards.

At 6:30 the men marched to the Friends' Church where the women had prepared a baked bean supper. During the social hour which followed Mrs. Manchester spoke, Savage, a seaman on the Montgomery, thanked the women for the good things and also proposed three cheers. Mr. Doyle of Providence spoke at the evening service on "The Promises of God." Miss Barr and Mr. Goff sang a duet.

Following the church service the men returned to the building, where Mr. Sutherland gave a stereopticon lecture entitled "An Enlisted Man's Trip Around the World."

SHORE LEAVE EXPIRES.

Battleships New Jersey and New Hampshire Waiting Orders for War Game.

Battleships New Jersey and New Hampshire are still at anchor in the outer harbor. Today is the time set for the ships of the fleet to leave their home yards, where they have been undergoing minor overhauling after their winter's campaign in Southern waters. From Norfolk, New York, Boston and Portsmouth the ships are therefore now sailing, preparing to take their positions along the coast. They are to engage in a war game as the first duty of their summer's work. This is scheduled for Block Island sound, but just where the ships will join their respective sides, and where the game will actually begin and when, are matters wholly under the direction of Admiral Badger, who this year is commander-in-chief of the fleet. The New Jersey and New Hampshire are all there is of the Third division and they are awaiting orders, which may come by wireless at any time, to proceed to some point and join another division.

The shore leave on both vessels expired this morning and while many returned to their ships Sunday night most of the men who were privileged to enjoy a few hours longer did so. The coming ashore of two battleships' liberty parties Saturday afternoon at once livened up the street and made things hustle some at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association, which was the objective point of many as soon as they struck land. The navy men also helped to swell the big crowd on the streets Saturday evening, a crowd which caused some to remark that the time is not far distant when on Saturday nights it will be necessary to restrict the streets to pedestrians only, as is done in some places at certain times.

Artillery Fires Salute and Schools Recognize State Independence Day.

This is Rhode Island's Independence Day and the Newport Artillery fired a saulte this noon at the City wharf. The Artillery's flag was flying, but at the court house neither the state nor the national flag was displayed. Generally, had it not been for the school flags and the salute by the Artillery, it would not have been known that this is the day Rhode Island alone celebrates.

The teachers of the public schools had some exercises in commemoration of the day. In view of the fact that there are so many observances at this time not much special attention could be given and have studies also. There was Newport's natal day, last Thursday; Rhode Island's today and Arbor day Friday. Arbor day is a holiday and the schools will close at noon.

MANY EXPECTED TO RESPOND.

College Men to be Organized Into a Reserve Corps of Officers.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—College men under the latest scheme devised by the War Department will be organized into a reserve corps of officers, available for the command of volunteer troops in case of war. Secretary Garrison and Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, would establish two camps of instructions, one at Gettysburg and the other at the Presidio at Monterey, Cal., to which the college students would be sent to be placed under the direct instruction of regular army officers, who will be detailed to the two posts.

Major General Wood believes the plan will not meet with any objection from those opposed to so-called "militarism." Under the plan students volunteering for instruction and drawn from the eastern and southern universities will be transported to Gettysburg, while those from other sections of the country will go the coast. The plan has been carefully worked out and able-bodied students over 17 years old will be given opportunity to learn the duties of an officer in command of men. Letters already have been sent by the War Department to the President of all the great institutions of learning of the country, urging them to lay the matter before the students. It is believed that 2,000 college men will respond to the call.

On the return trip a stop will be made at the New York Zoological Park, for the garden party of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the New York Zoological Society.

—Dr. William Hallock, dean of the faculty of pure science at Columbia University, suffered a slight attack of apoplexy Sunday, while measuring a yacht at the Herreshoff yards, Bristol. Professor Hallock, who is official mensurer for the New York Yacht Club, was taken to a hotel unconscious, but was revived at night. His physicians said he probably would recover. Professor Hallock is noted for his knowledge of yachting and aeronautics, and as a physicist.

TARIFF BILL CHANGES.

Underwood Does Not Expect Any Amendments to be Made in the Senate.

Will Resist Alterations—Has Strong Position Because of the President's Support.

(Washington correspondence of The News)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Chairman Underwood does not expect to see the tariff bill amended to any extent in the Senate; but, what is more important, he does not intend to accept any material amendments which the Senate may make. If he succeeds in keeping the tariff measure practically as he framed it he will accomplish much more than any ways and means chairman has done in a third of a century.

The last tariff law was so amended in the Senate that it was called the Payne-Aldrich tariff. The Dingley law was very materially changed in the Senate, although it did not get beyond the Dingley name. The Wilson law was changed almost completely by the Senate and became known as the Wilson-Gorman law. The McKinley bill was amended in many essential matters. Before that the various bills—the Mills and Morrison tariff measures—were almost entirely changed by the Senate, but they were not accepted by the House.

Underwood has a very strong position. He has made his bill lower than he really wanted at the insistence of President Wilson. He went further than he did in the bills of the last Congress because the President wanted certain free listed articles and lower schedules. Any attempted change by the Senate will be in direct opposition to the wishes of the President, and there is no group of Senators strong enough to stand up and fight the administration on the tariff bill as there was when Cleveland was President 20 years ago. Underwood can stand pat, to appropriate a protection phrase, and the Senate will have to come his way. But there is no assurance yet that the Senate will vote higher protection.

Probably the speech of Congressman Gardner on the tariff attracted more attention than that of almost any other man in the House. It contained quite a number of sentences which might be termed aphorisms. Speaking of the failure of the Republican party to accept a number of reforms advanced by the then insurgents in the party, the Massachusetts man said that they did not like the manner in which the reformers presented their proposals. In this connection he said: "No man likes to be seized by the throat. No man who is a man will stand being threatened."

Other remarks on present conditions were:

"Perhaps the new political physician may turn out to be another Dr. Cook."

"I see no reason to believe that the Democratic membership in this Congress is a gathering of rogues."

"The day has gone by when legislators can safely neglect the issues upon which they have been elected."

"Prophecy belongs to the category of lost gifts."

Recent remarks by prominent men show that Democratic leaders are disturbed over the slow manner in which appointments have been made and particularly the manner in which Republicans hold on to so many offices. "It seems," remarked Senator Williams of Mississippi in the Senate, "that by some queer coincidence of politics with civil service merit seven eighths of the diplomatic and consular service and three fourths of the employes of departments are Republicans."

Of course this tariff is a local issue. Congressman Bryan, a Progressive of Washington, started a speech complimenting the Democratic party on reducing the tariff and enacting an income tax. "But don't take the duty off shingles," he cried. "That is a Washington state industry, and our workmen will be compelled to enter into competition with Japanese and Hindu labor which the lumber interests of British Columbia employ." There you see it. It doesn't matter so much about some other fellow's local interest, but it pinches when it gets to a home product.

It begins to look as if Vice President Marshall was going to have more trouble keeping order than Speaker Clark, although he presides over about one fifth the number of members. The Senate is developing into a very disorderly body, as Senators talk to each other instead of paying attention to what is going on in the Senate.

Congressman Browning of New Jersey is the only Republican from the state in either house. As a consequence he is overwhelmed with work from all over the state. The Republicans of all districts turn to him, and he works the departments and writes the letters for his party friends. Browning is a busy man.

STRIKERS IN AUBURN RETURN.

International Harvester Plant Machinery Being Rushed Back.

AUBURN, N. Y., May 5.—In accordance with the agreement made between Edward P. Chapman, personal representative of Governor Sulzer, and Charles A. Miles, textile organizer of the American Federation of Labor, and John D. Dennis, business agent of the Central Labor Union, representing the International Harvester twine mill strikers, all the strikers today returned to work. Three carloads of machinery that had been shipped to Tidewater reached here last night and are being unloaded and other shipments, when the mill was ordered to be dismantled and now recalled, are being rushed back to Auburn. The company was able to accommodate only about 60 per cent of the returning strikers.

FIGURES IN ACCIDENT.

Sir Cecil Spring Rice Shows Democratic Spirit of His Predecessor.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the new ambassador from Great Britain, although here only a few days as a successor to James Bryce already has shown the same democratic characteristic that endeared his predecessor to the capital.

It developed today that while the ambassador was on his way to the Chevy Chase Club in the embassy automobile yesterday the chauffeur became confused as to the direction. "Stop and we will inquire the way," ordered the envoy, observing a young man approaching on foot. "Can you direct us to the Chevy Chase Club?" he inquired of the pedestrian, who stepped into the roadway as the big car came to a stop. The man was almost immediately struck by a car tearing city-ward.

"Are you hurt?" asked Sir Cecil, jumping from the motor. The young man, who proved to be Odie Howe, a street car conductor, off duty, protested that he was not, but found that his legs were injured so he could not walk. Despite his protests he was bundled into an embassy car and whirled to his home, Sir Cecil himself lifting him in. The ambassador will make inquiry into his condition today.

BIG LOSS ENTAILED.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 5.—A special to the Post Intelligencer from Dawson, Yukon Territory, says the power house of the Dawson Electric Light and Power Company was burned to the ground Saturday night, with a loss of $200,000. The destruction of the plant stopped the operations of the big mining companies dependent on it. Temporary electric service was established yesterday.

AWFUL ITCHING AND BURNING

Dandruff In Worst Form. Hair Began to Fall Out in Handfuls. Head Covered With Sores. Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

27 North Ave., Attleboro Falls, Mass.—"I have been troubled for a long time with dandruff in its worst form. My scalp was covered with eruptions and my hair had begun to fall out in handfuls. I scratched my head so that it was covered with sores and at times these caused me much suffering by their bleeding. My scalp itched terribly nearly all the time even at night when the awful itching and burning sensation would awaken me from sound sleep. There was not a spot on my head free from the awful itching dandruff and the dandruff was so thick as to be plainly seen in my hair even when I had given it a thorough brushing.

"I tried countless so-called 'remedies' for it without deriving the least benefit from their use. Then I decided to send for a free trial sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bought a full-sized box of Cuticura Ointment and more Cuticura Soap and at the end of a month I had not even a trace of dandruff left and never since have been troubled with its return. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me." (Signed) Miss Muriel E. Gammons, Apr. 6, 1912.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Boathouse on Wharton Estate Burned—Death of Judge William Hawkins.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The large boathouse on the summer estate of the late Joseph Wharton of Philadelphia was destroyed by fire Saturday evening, only the stone walls remaining of the building and its contents. Although little except the roof was of wooden construction the contents, a large launch, a catboat and several small boats, made an illumination seen for miles. Being situated on Mackerel cove, in a circle of hills, with no one living within a mile, the fire was not seen until the illumination caused several to investigate the cause.

An alarm was rung at 8:25, although the building was doomed. The engine, driven by Substitute Anthony, was the only piece of apparatus which reached the scene, Assistant Chief Arnold turning the others back. There was no water supply within 3,000 feet or more, and no other property was being endangered and nothing was left of the boathouse or its contents which could be saved.

The general opinion is that the cause of the fire was spontaneous combustion, as no one had been in the building for several days and then men were working on the boats. It is thought that the unusual heat Saturday afternoon caused some material left by those men to take fire.

The building was valued at about $1,200. The stone walls were not badly damaged and can be used in re-construction. The launch was the property of Mr. Morris, Mr. Wharton's son-in-law, and cost about $4,000. The catboat was a large one, built for the late Mr. Wharton by Afbro of Newport, and was worth more than $1,000. The rigging and small boats will make the loss exceed $3,000, which is thought to be covered by insurance held in Philadelphia.

Judge William G. Hawkins of the orphans' court in Allegheny county, Pa., whose death is announced, was one of Jamestown's summer colony, having occupied the Dr. Potter south cottage on the Dumplings last season, and only last week having signed a lease of the Paul cottage, through C. E. Weeden, for a term of three years. He was elected in 1875 the first judge of the orphans' court and since that time had served as presiding judge. He had been ill only a week. Judge Hawkins leaves a widow, three daughters, Mrs. M. W. Acheson, Mrs. Dexter M. Ferry of Detroit and Miss Beatrice Hawkins and two sons, Richard H. and Rees Hawkins.

Misses Edith and Amelia Geraghty of Newport were guests of Miss Jessie Brown on Clinton avenue Sunday.

The wires for the electric light service were run on High street today.

C. E. Weeden has rented his south cottage on Walcott avenue to William S. Hills of Boston. Mr. Hills has rented this cottage each season since it was built, a dozen years ago.

The local ball team was defeated Sunday afternoon in a well played game by the nine from battleship New Jersey, by a score of 3 to 2.

RECEIVE FIRST COMMUNION.

At St. Mary's Church Sunday morning at the children's service 46 girls and 44 boys received their first Communion after being under instruction for some time past. In the afternoon at the regular service these boys and girls were invested with the scapular. The vespers was a solemn high service, with Father Meenan celebrant, assisted by Fathers Tierney and Ryan, and Father Hines as master of ceremonies. The services in connection with the Novena and the May devotions took place in the evening. At St. Joseph's Church also the Novena still continues and as at St. Mary's will end with the services on Pentecost.

TODAY'S FUNERALS.

The funeral of James F. Sullivan took place this morning from his brother's residence on Tilley avenue, the body being escorted to St. Joseph's Church by Division 2, Ancient Order of Hibernians. A large number of friends and relatives were gathered at the church, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father McLaughlin. The interment was in St. Columba's cemetery, the bearers being John Dwyer, John Sheehan, Patrick Keating, Timothy Sullivan, Patrick Fogarty and Patrick Lyons.

Funeral services for Miss Lillias S. Sheffield were held this noon from her late residence on the Mall, conducted by Rev. G. A. Hulbert of the United Congregational church. There were numerous beautiful floral pieces and the interment was in the Sheffield plot in the Island cemetery. There were no bearers.

MACKEREL RUNNING SMALLER.

About 450 barrels of fish were shipped Sunday and about 350 will go tonight, according to indications. The catch of mackerel is not large, but they are coming from all places, even J. Souza from the Second beach having some today. Wilcox, fishing from off Coggeshall's point, had 700, but they did not come in here. It was noticed that the mackerel which came in today began to run smaller, and those landed in New York are considerably smaller than the first catches. The price is going down.

INCREASE OF NAVY ENLISTMENTS EXPECTED.

Officials of the bureau of navigation in charge of recruiting are expecting an increase in the number of enlistments, owing to the recent announcement of a foreign cruise next winter. At present the enlisted strength is about 5,000 men short of its legal quota. Since January only about 1,100 have been accepted, and at the present rate of progress it is not expected to bring the navy up to its full enlisted strength for about eight or nine months. Recruiting is always slow at this season of the year, however, because of the heavy demand for labor in all sections of the country.

A BURNING WINDOW CURTAIN.

Just before 10 o'clock Saturday night residents of Fir street saw a flame dart out of a window in the naval nurses' home on the corner of Catherine street, and then back again. Some telephoned the fire department, some went for extinguishers and some to the home to give the alarm. A nurse had gone to the theatre, left the gas burning and the curtains had been blown against it. The wind then blew the curtains out of the window and back. The neighborhood fire fighters soon stripped down all burning objects and threw them out, and when the firemen went for extinguishers and some to the do but go to their stations again. The curtains have gone, the window casing is scorched, a bureau shows the effects of the flames and the nurse has lost a dress.

TO USE THE ALBEMARLE & CHESAPEAKE CANAL.

Destroyers, submarines and other small naval vessels will hereafter use the Albemarle & Chesapeake canal, which has been opened for traffic, in going from Chesapeake bay to the South Atlantic coast. The inside route will be more comfortable, and less dangerous, especially in winter, when hurricanes are prevalent off Cape Hatteras. The federal government will spend about $1,000,000 in improving the canal, and a supply-station will probably be established at Newbern, N. C., for the convenience of naval vessels using the inside route.

Noon—Strength of the foreign markets, owing to reports that Montenegro would yield to the powers, was reflected here in an increased demand for stocks. European orders flowed into the market at the outset, and as they came into competition with bidding by the shorts the whole market advanced vigorously. While the demand seemed to come largely from the short interest, operations for the long account were more extensive. Bull traders were not willing to take a decided stand, however, and refrained from aggressive buying when it was plain that the demand from the shorts had been satisfied. The possibility of important decisions by the Supreme Court tended to slow down dealings and the market grew dull on moderate recessions. Bonds were steady. Money on call, steady, at 2½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 5 to 5½ per cent. Exchanges, $214,339,682; balances, $11,012,078.

YOUNG MEN CUT COAL.

Harold Vanderbilt, 3d, and George F. Baker, Jr., Work Shift in Mine.

Workmen in the Truesdale mine of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Company at Nanticoke had a surprise yesterday when they heard that Harold Vanderbilt, 3d., and George F. Baker, Jr., had worked a shift in the mine as miner and laborer and cut enough coal to load a regulation car. Vanderbilt and Baker accompanied Vice President E. E. Loomis on a tour of the road. They reached Nanticoke Wednesday and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon went into the mine. The young men wore overalls, blouses and caps with lamps. Mr. Loomis was the instructor and showed them how to cut the coal. They toiled several hours and when they had cut enough to fill a car they loaded it. At 2 a. m. Thursday they were through and returned to the private car.

AN OLD MERCHANT.

Rev. Roderick Terry's Aged Father Dead in New York City.

Mr. John Taylor Terry, father of Rev. Roderick Terry, D. D., one of the oldest merchants of New York and the oldest member of the Chamber of Commerce, died Sunday morning in that city, in his ninety-second year. Born at Hartford, Conn., September 4, 1822, Mr. Terry was educated at private schools in Hartford, Westfield and Ellington. He began a business career when 16 years old, and in 1842 went to New York as a clerk in the large importing and banking house of E. D. Morgan. His progress was so marked that in two years he was made a member of the firm, which in 1844 became E. D. Morgan & Co. Governor Morgan, of Civil War times, and Mr. Sulon Humphries were members. In 1853, when Governor Morgan died, Mr. Terry became head of the house, and for nearly 60 years was a commanding figure in financial and commercial affairs of the city. He was connected with many large corporations during his long business career, as a director, vice president or trustee.

Mr. Terry was a member of the Union League Club, the New England Society, the Society of Colonial Wars, the Sons of the American Revolution, the American Geographical Society and the Society of the Mayflower Descendents, and was a patron of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Museum of Natural History. He will be buried in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery, in a plot adjoining that of Washington Irving, the two having bought the ground at the same time many years ago.

Mr. Terry married in 1866, Miss Elizabeth Roo Pell, daughter of Frederick T. Pell of Brooklyn. He leaves two sons, Rev. Dr. Terry, and Mr. John Taylor Terry, Jr., of New York.

A NEW ACHIEVEMENT.

Hupmobile Roadster's Record Trip Between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Boston Post has this to say of the Hupmobile automobile, for which Mr. W. A. Maher of this city is agent:

April 22 a Hupmobile "32" roadster, driven by E. W. Johnson of Fresno, Cal., cut three hours and five minutes off the record for the valley route between Los Angeles and San Francisco. Johnson drove the little car through in the remarkable time of 14 hours flat, averaging approximately 40 miles per hour. The best previous record for the trip, which has been essayed for record purposes by virtually every car sold on the Pacific coast, was 17 hours and five minutes. This record, which stood for more than two years, was made by a much larger car than the Hupmobile.

According to the San Francisco papers which make much of the achievement of the Hupmobile Mr. Johnson says that the record was due entirely to a perfect freedom from mechanical difficulties.

PREVENT THE FLIES.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

This clean-up business is "great stuff," and the "prevent the fly" notion seems about the "proper caper," also. Can't we have some regulations about preventing their breeding? If other property holders welcome assistance in cleaning up their yards, would not stable keepers allow the spraying of manure piles with germicide for fly "larvae" (or whatever they call them—although they seem to come without waiting to be called)? Cannot some effective work be done, at proper intervals, on those manure piles?

CREDITABLE TO PUPILS.

Miss Dowling's Thirteenth Season of Recitals Has Successful Finish.

Miss Marian G. Dowling's thirteenth season of pupils' recitals was brought to a successful finish Saturday afternoon, the playing of the advanced pupils being highly creditable, alike to Miss Dowling and to themselves, and all evidently having had careful training.

The first to appear was the youngest, little Miss Catherine Carr of Jamestown, whose number was the Melody, op. 68 No. 1, of Schumann. It is predicted that with hard work she will make a player. Miss Marion Lake did well with three more Schumann pieces, the Stellkenne, "Roaming in the Morning" and the "Italian Sailor's Song", all from op. 68. Miss Madeline Ritt, another young performer, did well with John Orth's arrangement of the Brahms "Cradle Song".

Miss Eloise Peckham of Middletown gave a really excellent interpretation of the familiar Schumann "Merry Farmer," good enough for a player of mature years. She also gave an intricate Grieg number, a Melodie Op. 38, No. 3, in a creditable manner. It is evident that she has unusual talent, and it is said that she is also a good worker; hence her noticeable success is not surprising.

Miss Margherita Rooney of Jamestown did some of her best work in this recital, having three numbers. First she played the familiar "Traumerei" and the "Romance," which often accompanies it. To make anything so familiar interesting is not an easy task, but all were following her closely, and enjoying her thoughtful presentation of the favorite melody, so clearly brought out in such sweet and rich tones. Of course this speaks well for the Steinway grand piano she was playing; but a good player is needed to make even the best piano sound right. Her "forte" playing is firm, with plenty of vigor and yet with rich quality of tone. In her Franz-Bendel "Dedication" the solo in the lower notes was given with much effect, and the fortissimo was a large one, of the right sort. Her third number was the "Caprice Celebre" in E. of Paganini-Schumann, which was given with appropriate brilliancy and the French horn effect well done.

Mrs. W. A. Foster did good work in the Brahms-Orth "Sunday" and the pretty "Slumber Song", op. 124, of Schumann.

Miss Marguerite Donovan, another well advanced pupil, played noticeably well, and with intelligence and good tone. She had two pieces, the Grieg "Album leaf" (in E Minor) and a romanze of Franz-Jaell. She, too, has a fine "fortissimo" as well as good quality on softer tones.

The recital closed with another modern number, by Miss Dowling, the Grieg Sonata, op. 7, in E minor, the movements being an allegro moderato, andante molto, alla menuetto, ma poco piu lento, and molto allegro. It was excellently done and received deserved applause. The first movement was strong, firm yet free, with fine fortissimo. The second seemed to portray the sombre blasts of the north winds; the next had some good crushes of full rich fortissimo and the last, quite military in style, had an interval of low and sweet tones.

Everybody was pleased with the recital and Miss Dowling's systematic method is shown by the announcement of the next one—January 10, 1914. The piano was from Barney's.

START SEASON WITH SHUTOUT.

Trojans Take the Opening Game from the Trisomes, 4 to 0.

Rogers Overtakes Durfee in Ninth and Wins on Forfeit—St. George's Scores Another Victory.

The Trojans opened the season of 1913 Sunday afternoon with a win over the Trisomes of Fall River, 4 to 0, starting with a shutout. It was a good game, but the weather man was not in good mood and those who had been outdoors in the semi-tropical conditions of Saturday were nearly frozen stiff in the chilly southeaster which prevailed. To these it seemed that the game was a trifle slow, but as a matter of fact it was well played, though of course the absence of hitting by the visitors took away much of the interest. When two singles is all a team can gather in nine full innings, and these are located, one in the fourth and one in the eighth inning, it is plain that the batting rallies made no great showing. However, the locals put up a good game at the bat and both teams showed some good fielding, and all seemed to be in the plays all the time. It was a good, even if a rather chilly, start.

The management and the players had worked wonders in the field and in putting the broken-down fences and dilapidated grand stand in presentable condition, and things looked pretty good. The diamond seemed fine, but the outfield was a trifle rough and in need of cutting and rolling. The foul lines were laid down without any signs of parsimony in the use of material and stood out strong and clear. In fact, before the game all the conditions seemed favorable and it was evident that all that could be foreseen had been done to make the opening a success.

The attendance, for the first days of May, was good; in fact, more than good. A number of the friends of the visiting team from Fall River were on hand to encourage them, but toward the end, when there was no hitting, they gave up hope.

The Trojans looked familiar. The same players, with one exception, Ralph O'Connell, filled the various places. His place at third was well filled by Cooney, last year with Cranston and this year with Revere of the Providence Amateur League. He gave a satisfactory exhibition in the field and at the bat and made all feel that a good man had been secured to fill in what was felt to be a deep hole in the Trojan defense.

Jakey Sheehan was in good form, but seemed a trifle inclined to take things easy. He opened by striking out two in the first inning and one in the second. In the meantime his team mates had been doing something.

After a scoreless first things began to happen in the second. Martin opened with a smash to left, which was nicely handled. Gillies hit safely and stole second and Jim O'Connell was hit. Eckstrom came up and every one seemed to feel that he was a weak batter. "Big Eyes" drove one past short and Gillies was home, O'Connell going to second. A double steal landed them closer to home and Sheehan hit to left for a near double, two runs coming in. Sheehan, however, died at second, trying to show it was a double.

In the third Sheehan gave his fielders something to do and the three batters were retired on sharp fielding by Cooney, Harvey and Eckstrom. Then came a peculiar inning. In the last of the third the Trojans made two doubles and a single, stole one base and had a fly ball dropped, and yet one run was all they scored. Cooney opened by hitting to right for two bags, went to third on Harvey's safe drive to centre and was sent home on a chance, but was out at the plate on a neat assist. West popped up an easy one, which Demeo dropped. On a short passed ball Harvey tried to reach third, but the umpire said he was out. West stole second, Martin banged one to deep centre for two bags and the one run of the inning was in. This ended the scoring.

In the fourth there were signs in favor of the visitors. Demeo was safe when Eckstrom failed to hold Cooney's throw, Phillips made the first hit off Sheehan. Smart hit to West, who let it go through. The bases were filled and there was but one out. A Greenslade hit to right. Smart thought it was safe and ran for second, but Gillies was on the job and called in the fly throw to first for the first double play of the season, and the first of three in this game. The double was complete before Demeo could reach the plate.

The Trojans worked in another double play in the sixth, Sheehan, West and Eckstrom doing the trick neatly, and had one worked on them in the eighth, when Harvey was caught off second on a fine catch by Demeo. In the fifth A. Greenslade made the catch of the game, off West. It was a dandy and he received a "hand" from all quarters of the field.

The trouble with the visitors was inability to hit Sheehan. They played a stiff game in the field and the pitching was good, but lack of connection at the home plate when they swung their bats was the difficulty. There was also a lack of stolen bases on their part, for they had little chance to steal. The score:

WINS CHAMPIONSHIP.

Captain J. S. Brown, Jr., Defeats Hobbs in Three Hot Tennis Sets.

Captain J. S. Brown, Jr., of the Rogers High tennis team won the championship of the school by defeating L. H. Hobbs, in the final match of the elimination tournament played last week. Brown beat Hobbs Saturday afternoon, in three hot sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1. The winner showed more than usual speed and an improvement already over his last year's form, and if his work continues he should count heavily in the tournaments and matches. The other matches resulted as follows:

B. H. Sherman beat T. H. Wyllie, 6-3, 6-0.

Brown beat B. H. Sherman, 6-0, 6-4.

The probable members of the team began practice today in preparation for the first event which they will enter, the Harvard interscholastic tournament, in Cambridge next Saturday. It looks good for Rogers to come out near the top, as Herd, the California crack, is not entered this year for Exeter. It was he who won last year, and who spoiled the Rogers hopes by defeating Brown early in the tournament.

ADDRESS ALL OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS TO THE SUPERINTENDENT.

State of New York.
BRANCH OFFICE OF
Banking Department.

Geo. C. Van Tuyl, Jr.
Superintendent.

60 BROADWAY
New York, N.Y.

Dear Sir—

The Banking Department of the State of New York, as liquidator of the Carnegie Trust Company and the Northern Bank of New York, is largely interested in the property formerly known as the Morris Park Race Track, located in the Borough of the Bronx, City of New York, extending from about the line of 175th Street to Pelham Parkway.

This property, consisting of about 3000 lots, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder on May 31st, 1913, and succeeding days.

The property is high ground, many of the streets are on grade. The City grew up to the property years ago and this great tract has stopped its development in a northeasterly direction.

There are five railroad stations on or in the immediate vicinity, a number of trolley lines come to and along its borders, and this Department is advised by the Manager of the Interborough Railway that two of the lines of rapid transit recently adopted by the City will have stations adjoining or near the property, and that it is expected one of these lines will be in operation within the next two years. This property will then be in direct communication with all parts of Manhattan and Brooklyn for a five-cent fare.

Your attention is respectfully called to this proposed sale.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE C. VAN TUYL, Jr.,
State Superintendent of Banks, in charge of the Carnegie Trust Co. and the Northern Bank in liquidation.
